Obituary

Blanche Louise Smith, was born on October 14, 1922 to the late Floyd and Marie Smith.

She lived her life as a youngster in Richmond, Virginia. Blanche moved to New York City as a teenager to continue her education.

She had seven siblings who are deceased. She reared three children with the late Sidney Addison and was very dedicated to her family.

In her later years, she married Robert Hayes. She worked in Long Island Jewish Hospital in housekeeping, where she later retired from.

She was very active in her community and served on tenant patrol where she resided at. She loved playing cards and Atlantic City was her personal playground. She was always cheerful and had a good sense of humor. She extended herself to anyone who knew her. Her loving and upbeat nature will be truly missed.

She remained full of life and hope, even up until her final moments. She is survived by: two sons, Sidney Smith and the late Franklin Smith; one daughter, Marie Spann; two nieces, Barbara Asbury and Joann Blackshear; nine grandchildren, Franklin, Jr., Tyrone, James, Charlene, Pele, Rochae, Racine and the late Lorraine and Michael Spann; eighteen great grandchildren; fourteen great great grandchildren; and a host of other family members and friends.

God looked around His garden and found an empty place,
He then looked upon the earth and saw Blanche tired face.
He put His arms around her and lifted Blanche to rest.
God's garden must be beautiful, He always makes the best.
He knew that she was suffering and knew that she was in pain,
He knew that she would never get well on earth again.
He saw the road was getting rough, and the hills were hard to climb,
So He closed her eyelids and smiled, peace be thine.
It broke our hearts to lose you, but you didn't go alone,
For part of us went with you the day God called you home.
