Obituary

De'Haven D. Chatman was born February 13, 1992. Abruptly he passed away on Monday afternoon October 31, 2011 at the tender age of nineteen. Heart broken by his death, no one will ever forget his stories. The way he joked around and his love for football, he had a heart of a Tiger.

De' Haven had a very very special love for his mother Darlene.

De'Haven attended Morton Street Elementary where he received his diploma. After receiving his diploma he attended Central High School.

He leaves to mourn and cherish, but finally found closure: his mother, Darlene Chatman; his father, Ronald Derricks; stepfather, Ronald Barnes; stepmother, Linda Derricks; his brother/best friend, Ronald Chatman and Isaiah Derricks; sisters, Mahassin, Mezziah Chatman, Isaiada Derricks and Minimah Rush; grandparents, Willie Sr. and Yvonne Chatman and the late Ronald, Sr. and Linda Derricks; aunts, Wanda and Alice Chatman and Sharonda Coleman; uncles, Willie Terry and Frankie Chatman and Khalid Derricks; cousins, the late Kishmar Madison, Jr., Queah, Hafisah, Tanisha, Nysir, Scoody, Evan, Shantae, Ian, Presious, Auyae, Janee, Kyisha, Shakur, Destiny, Terry, Jayden, Tanaisa and Mehki; special loved ones, his Godmothers, Barbara Johnson Derrick, Sharlene, Kyisha, Madeline Reek, Michelle and Nicole; and a host of other family and friends.

MY SON

My son, I chased you, I lost you, I found you, I won. My son who I loved I could never be done. My son was my rock, as hard as his head he walked the talk as he lead. My son deep within part of my rib, he grew with me, he is with me, my son is why I lived. My son, He knew it all, he had it all I gave him what he wanted. So convinced he was my twin he knew when I was coming. To stop him, secure him or whatever it could be. To never give up is all that I could see. My son stayed on my mind 24 to the 7. Second boy out of four, four great blessings. But De'Haven was special, made exactly for me he needed his mommy to make him complete. Inadequately I did but he left us so soon a lot more is what I wanted for a son misconstrued . He fought hard he loved harder that's all I have to say, the memory of De'Haven Deron Chatman is here to stay .
