

If Tomorrow Starts Without Me

If tomorrow starts without me, and I'm not there to see if the sun should rise and find your eyes, all filled with tears for me. I wish so much you wouldn't cry, the way you did today, while thinking of the many things, we didn't get to say. I know how much you love me, as much as I love you, and each time that you think of me, I know you'll miss me too. But if tomorrow starts without me, please try to understand that an angel came and called my name, and took me by the hand and said, "my place was ready, in heaven far above and that I'd have to leave behind, all those I dearly love." But when I walked through heaven's gates, I felt so much at home. When God looked down and smiled at me, from His great golden throne. He said "This is eternity, and all I've promised you." Today for life on earth is past, but here it starts anew. I promise no tomorrow, for today will always last. And since each day's the same way, there's no longing for the past. So if tomorrow starts without me, don't think we're far apart. For every time you think of me, I'm right here in your heart.

Obituary

On December 11th, 1983 in Newark, NJ, God blessed Felix and Bernadette Eze with their first son David U. Eze.

David graduated with an Associates Degree in Business from Essex County College and was in the process of completing his Bachelors at Kean University. David was dedicated to completing his higher education. No matter what obstacles came about David would easily or uneasily overcome them. David had big dreams, his goal to become a CEO of a successfully large corporation and then eventually his own business was not so farfetched. He was willing to give his all to turn his dream into reality.

As a child David grew up in Maplewood, NJ with his father, mother, brother and sister; where he lived a care free life. He explored and lived out his imagination to the fullest.

David was always known for his crazy laugh that filled an entire room. David fit in where he could get in which was key in having such an extreme diverse group of friends that he very easily made feel comfortable. David at one point or another became someone's Best Friend being able to adapt so well with everyone's different personalities.

David was never outside of reach to a close friend or family. With the many people he has touched they were always willing to help him get through his own trials and tribulations. He had many mother, father, sister and brother figures that were always ready to help.

David always talked about having children of his own someday and God was able to bless him with two. David was a caring father who devoted his life to becoming the best he could to provide for his children. He once acknowledged that he needed to work at becoming a better father. David took the initiative and joined The Fathers Association at the Unified Vailsburg Child Development Center which his son attended the daycare program. He would participate in school functions such as Food Drive fundraiser's, Bring your Father to School Day and attended their "How to be a better Father" counseling program. Since then David has grown to understand what true love meant, even though he wanted to be successful and become wealthy to properly support his family in the end he knew that just by being there for his two children was more important than all the riches in the world.

David U. Eze was a bright and intelligent man who's passion to go after his dreams never faulted. We will all miss him greatly, and to everyone who has had the opportunity to know David are truly blessed to have shared a time with him on this earth.

David leaves to cherish his memory: Children: Faith Alon Eze and David U. Eze Jr; Parents: Felix Eze and Bernadette Eze; Siblings: Diana Eze, Felix Eze Jr. and Yolanda Eze; Plus a host of extended family and friends; Sabirah Brittany Johnson, Uchenna Anonyuo, Stephen Irving, Lloyd G. McKessey II, Sammy Terry, David G. Chanoine Christopher Collins, Jean Raymond Bonneau, Beth Tyree, Chandler Tyree, Shakirah Johnson and many others who has touched David's life.

The Eze Family thanks everyone who was able to give during this troublesome time and gave a helping hand in sending David U. Eze home properly. Thank you..
