Smitty

*Was light on his feet and danced to every beat Would walk in the room and gave a great debate
He would fry that chicken and work that kitchen*

*His suits were clean, he never wore jeans Smitty was a touch of class and told everyone to "kiss his ass"
He would break down things but fixed everything*

*He had a tongue that would scold
But a heart of gold*

*In 1975 he kept his niece alive
By jumping in that car
Fast like a moving star*

*His cousin Jo would never know
That her love for him will continue to grow
So as we see him later and say farewell
We remember Smitty with so much to tell
Now we must go and close this chapter
And drink to Smitty while he visits life after.*

We love you Smitty Until we meet again.

Family are friends are invited for a repast at Lincoln Square Neighborhood Center 250 West 65th Street between
