

In the midst of life struggles your determination and desire a great empire. You are inspiring-you encouraged me to believe, achieve and aspire. My big sister who I love so dear. We shared laughs, conversations and secrets, with the best intentions at heart. Never fault finding, you didn't judge, we always gave each other that needed way. My big sister who I love so dear. Your love of life-free caring way is like a bird in flight with no end in sight. My big sister who I love so dear.

Love Renee

Reflections of Life

Scharlinda Powell had many wonderful qualities that will linger in our memories as we pass through our lives. Her friends will remember her as honest, generous, funny and smart. Her parents will remember the joy she brought to their lives, her industriousness for her big heart, her generosity, and self-sacrifice. Her children; they will remember her for her strength of character, her will to make it through difficult times successfully with her children, her loving discipline and pillar of support she provided and was for them; how she was all about her family; how she was a rock, and a strength and a support for them; and how she prepared them for the world, and was there for them when they needed her.

Scharlinda also had a deep spiritual nature about her, she believed in the God of the Bible, Jehovah, and dedicated her life to him in 1996. While she found her road through life often times difficult to travel, she never abandoned her love for Jehovah, she, no doubt, is living in the memory of that one who will raise her up once again in paradise.

She is predeceased by her husband, Just-ion Powell, Jr. and son, Jeffery W. Powell.

Scharlinda Powell of Paterson, New Jersey, died peacefully at home surrounded by her children on June 5, 2013.

She is survived by her parents, Edward and Garnell Jenkins of Ridgeland, South Carolina; five devoted children, LaTanya Taylor, Kevin Taylor, Zena Powell, Just-ion Powell III and Jasmeeek Powell all of Paterson, New Jersey; one granddaughter, Janae McKoy; two brothers, Edward Jenkins, Jr. of Linden, New Jersey and Kenneth Jenkins of Silver Springs, Maryland; two sisters, Eva Taylor of Morristown, New Jersey and Renee Jenkins of Ridgeland, South Carolina. She also leaves a host of nieces, nephews, aunts, uncles, adopted children and friends who will dearly miss her.

She was loved, she will be missed and she will be remembered.
