Obituary

Sidney Brown, Jr. was born April 16, 1936 to Sidney Brown and Jessie Mae Session. The only child was born in Harlem and grew up in the Bronx. He started work at an early age to help support his family.

He worked in the garment district for over fifty years as a messenger and became a shipping manager. He married Josephine Smith in 1959. They had six kids, Christine, Valerie Smith, Sidney Brown, Jessie Brown, Roger Brown and Joseph Brown.

His first and favorite hobby was fishing which he did very often since he was a little boy. Second was going to the casino which he enjoyed doing with his mother. His favorite saying was "If it's not broke don't fix it".

He was predeceased by his wife.

He leaves behind eighteen grandchildren; thirteen great grandchildren; one great great grand; one daughter-in-law; and a host of cousins and friends.

*He will be missed by many
But God does all things well.*

Amen

Afterglow

*I'd like the memory of me
To be a happy one,
I'd like to leave an afterglow
Of smiles when day is done.
I'd like to leave an echo
Whispering softly down the ways,
Of happy times and laughing times
And bright and sunny days.
I'd like the tears of those who grieve
To dry before the sun
Of happy memories that I leave behind,
When the day is done.*

-Helen Lowrie Marshall
