The Obituary of God's Angel

On October 8, 2013 “Nay Nay” Dajonniza White unexpectedly, at the tender age of twenty years old, was handed her angel wings and has been called home to the heavens of God. As shocking as her calling may have been to the many family members and friends she has left behind, we all must come to realize that Nay Nay is now at peace and the life she once shared here on earth with us has migrated to a heavenly place she now calls home. Although our hearts remain heavy with her memories and overloaded with pain, we must live with the comfort that her spirit will always remain.

Born on June 14, 1993 in Harlem, New York to her parents, Maxine Hood and Quentin White, Nay Nay entered into this world glowing and smiling and has never lost that which we will always remember her by. Through her childhood, teenage and young adult years, up until the moment of her untimely death we remember her glow and her smile. Nay Nay is still smiling in heaven just as she always did on earth. Anyone who knew Nay Nay or had the pleasure of meeting her knew that she always greeted and departed with that bright smile she carried since she was a precious baby.

Nay Nay was sort of a quiet young lady who lived a very happy life despite facing some struggles and obstacles in her path of growth. She spent many of her childhood years living with her grandparents, Gloria Deane White and John Douse, Sr. who took part in raising her along with her parents. She enjoyed music, sneakers and spending time with her family. She wasn't much of a party girl, but she did her fair share of hanging out with her family and friends and thus was extremely popular growing up. Whatever she did and wherever she went she was always accepted and loved by all, which shows that her personality was exceptional. One funny thing about Nay Nay was, even as a beautiful young lady, she would always tell you, “I'm not with those dresses, heels or weaves...give me the new “J's” and I'm good”. She always had a little tom boy side of her that she felt comfortable with and she had no problem strutting her “timbs”. Nay Nay was a fast talker with a high pitched voice, and when she got excited that little frame of hers could produce some sound. Whether she was quiet or whether she was loud she was always a loving soul to be around.

Nay Nay attended Public School 207 in Harlem and Norman Thomas High School in Midtown Manhattan. She recently would migrate back and forth from New York to Virginia where her mother moved over a year ago. One of her travels to Virginia to visit her mother was one of her last journeys we would see her make in life. It was during Nay Nay's last journey that caused her to leave behind so many loved ones.

Nay Nay was predeceased by her father, Quentin White and granddad, John Douse, Sr. She leaves behind to mourn: her mother, Maxine Hood; grandmothers, Gloria Deane White and Antoinette Randall, Nay Nay shared her life with so many people and will be deeply missed by her brothers, Dequan, Kareem, Tony, Cory and Lasheen, sisters, Starteisha, Quanisha, Aaliyah, Shemaya and LaQuasia, her loving nieces and nephews, Rayquan, Dequan Jr., Ajanah, Jaden, Chazrick Jr., Destiny, Quamel, Ayanna and Khamori, uncles and aunts, Tyrone, Lolita, Carrie, Rahmel, Shawn, Troy, Taurus, Shelton “Sa”, Jaydee, John Jr., Kim, Cathy, Linda, Lavonne, Daymond, Michelle and more; a host of very, very close cousins... with honorable mention to her little cousin, Thalia who Nay Nay treated very special and held her close to her heart. Nay Nay undoubtedly leaves behind a friends list that goes on and on.

It is always so hard to say good-bye so instead we will say, “See you later Nay, we are all promised to meet again in the Promised Land, but until then, the gates have opened for you and God has taken you by the hand. Please don't be afraid to go with Him, we know you'd rather be here...trust in the hand of the Lord and know that the comforts of your loved ones are near. Trust that we all questioned God's decision on that dreadful, teary day... we tried to make sense as to why His hand was reached your way. We asked him over and over, “why dear God, why?” He simply and confidently replied, “Another angel is needed in the sky”. We still wondered, “But why God, she was so precious and young”. God said simply and confidently, “I understand your pain, but Nay Nay's time has come”. For that, we just cried and cried because we knew we had to trust the decision of the Lord...God said simply and confidently, “Nay Nay is painlessly smiling upon you and she wants you to know that she is welcomed aboard”, So we thank you Nay Nay for still smiling upon us as you reluctantly make your way... it is so hard to say good-bye, so we will simply and confidently say, “See you another day”.

We love you Nay Nay!

The Master Called

*I'm sorry I had to leave you.
My loved ones, oh so dear.
But you see, the Master called me,
His voice was very clear!
I had made my reservation
A heaven bound ticket for one,
And I knew that He would call me
When He felt my work was done.
I know that your hearts are heavy
Because I have gone away,
But when the Master called me,
I knew that I could not stay.
Yes, I'm sorry I had to leave you
My loved ones, oh so dear,
But, you see, the Master called me
And, now I'm resting here.
Yes, I've crossed on over to glory
And to you all I say
Just stay in the hands of Jesus
And we'll meet again someday.*
