

Dear Dad,

Your passing leaves a void that cannot be filled. No one can take your place. My eyes filled with tears when I heard the news of your passing.

It never occurred to me how much I lost. I find myself wishing that it wasn't true. So many things we never got to do, so many conversations we will never have. I feel lost, empty and sad as tears roll down my face.

I know you're in a better place. But, what is this world without "Jay-Mac". The sun shall rise and sure to set. your time has come to take your rest, we know you had to go. I will rejoice today for I know you are with God.

Your Baby Girl,
Jasmine

Obituary

Jessie Young, Jr. came into this world on September 5, 1967 to Jessie Young, Sr. and Sharon Young. He departed this life on November 13, 2013 at University Hospital.

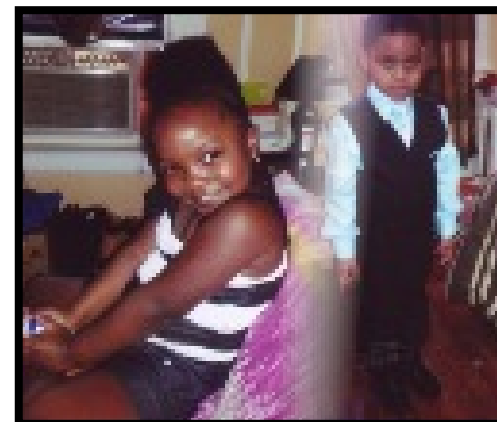

Jessie also known as “JJ” was educated in the Newark Public School system. In his own way he was a teacher to his “Grandson/Road Dog”, Quameer Riggins teaching him to ride his bike, how to throw a football and taking him to the park.

Jessie was always willing to help his family and others no matter what was needed of him, and at times he would help his dad.

Jessie leaves to cherish his memory: six children Rasjun, LaShonda, Jessie, Jasmine, Tiana and Nadirah; his mother, Sharon Young; four siblings, Jessica, Jeffrey (Cincinnati, Ohio), Anthony and Kelly; eight grandchildren; and a host of relatives and friends.

*We will watch you suffer no more
You will be missed by all that knew you
You have taken a piece of each of us with you
We love you and will miss you and think of you often.*

*Lovingly Submitted,
Your Family*
