Reflections of Life

Frederic Marc was born on July 1st 1917 to Adelina Delile and Theragene Marc in Croix-des-Bouquet, Haiti.

His mother died while giving birth and left behind three children, Frederic Marc, Adeline Marc, and Titante Marc. He was two years old when his mother died. Frederic Marc was raised by his grandmother, Madame Yate Delile and his father.

A good man is hard to find, but Frederic Marc was the definition of a good man. He was also a very kind man who had a lot of love to give the world. Throughout his childhood till he became a man that people always looked up to because he was a hard worker and a good farmer.

Our father was one of the most caring and understanding men that I have ever known. He always found a way to make us happy. His death greatly affected the entire family. Family meant everything to Frederic Marc. Growing up in Haiti he was always surrounded by cousins, aunts, uncles and childhood friends whom he would cherish for the rest of his life.

He married our mother, Atercie Jean, and they had seven beautiful children, Ketely Marc Providence, Marie Gerda Marc Batroni, Marie Therese Marc Coriolan, Cerette Marc, Eric Marc, Marie Michelle Marc Lemoine, and Marie Juline Marc. He had twenty-six grandchildren and twenty-five great grandchildren.

He came to America on October 31st, 2000. That day was one of the happiest day of his life. All his life, all he knew was work. He worked hard to take care of his family all his life because he wanted to see his children happy. Frederic was always there to guide people into the right direction. He always wanted to see everyone succeed and happy.

Miss Me, But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road and the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room,
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little-but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low.*

*Remember the love
that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.*

*For this is a journey
that we all must take,
And each must go alone.
It's all part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.*

*When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know.
Laugh at the things we use to do
Miss me-but let me go.*

Acknowledgement

Perhaps you sent a lovely card or sat quietly in a chair.
Perhaps you sent a floral piece If so, we saw it there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words as any friend could say.
Perhaps you were not there at all just thought of us on that day.
Whatever you did to console our hearts, We Thank You, Whatever the part.
