Obituary

Mildred Lucile Brown was born on February 4, 1931 to the late, Edward Knight and Maggie H. Orr in the town of Scotland Neck, North Carolina.

She was educated at Brawly High Public School in Scotland Neck, NC. She was married to James L. Brown.

Mildred accepted Christ at an early age and was a faithful long time member of Clear View Baptist Church. In addition, she was also a member of the Willing Worker's Auxiliary.

Mildred was employed by Ariston's Outdoor Billboard Company until her time of retirement.

She was preceded in death by her husband, James L. Brown, her brother, Columbus Moore, Jr., her sister, Mary Moore and Johnny Lee Moore.

Mildred leaves to cherish her memory: one son, James Earl Harris; one daughter, Odessa Leanice Knight; her sister-in-law, Madeline J. Moore; four grandchildren, Minister Krystal Harris, Hasan Sharif, Tyrick Harris and Destiny (Di-Dee) Lockhart; eight great-grandchildren, Koran Sharif, Aljiernon (AJ) Aiken, Hassan Sharif, Jr., Njari Sharif, Kaie Ra'oof, Jihad Ra'oof and Kenya Ra'oof; a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives and friends.

To My Loved Ones

Good bye, Keep on living,
so long I will see you on the other side.

Miss Me, But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road and the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room,
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little-but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.
For this is a journey that we all must take,
And each must go alone.
It's all part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know.
Laugh at the things we use to do
Miss me-but let me go.*
