Obituary

Freddy Manuel Villalongo was born April 3rd 1973 to Egly “Josefina” Sosa and Pedro Villalongo in Jersey City, NJ. He was the eldest son. God called Freddy home May 20th 2015. He will be greatly missed and never forgotten.

Freddy was educated in School P.S. #23 and Dickinson High School. As a kid Freddy loved to play baseball and took pride in wearing his uniform. As an adult Freddy worked for years driving fork lifts and high-lows also as a mechanic. Freddy had a passion for cars. His favorite was his Beretta. He could take any car and make it luxury. He loved adding tvs, rims and booming stereo systems. You could hear Freddy coming from blocks away. Freddy loved to hang with friends and family from all over but especially Van Wagnen. That’s where you could catch Freddy anytime.

If you ever needed Freddy no matter the situation he’d be there without hesitation especially for his mom and kids. Freddy was loved by so many and he will be remembered for his bright smile and smart wit that’s what kept us all laughing. We will never forget our memories we hold so dear of him.

Freddy is preceded in death by his grandfather, Domingo Sosa and his grandmother, Carmen Sosa. They will greet him and welcome him home.

Freddy leaves to mourn and cherish his memory: his mother, Egly Sosa; his father, Pedro Villalongo; his stepfather, Hector Clasen; his two brothers, Pedro and Hector Clasen; his sister, Margarita Villalongo; his uncles, Jose Sosa and Freddy Sosa; his kids, Ashanti Pack, Devantaye Stewart, Amber Pack, Aaliyah Villalongo, Kristal Vega; his two grandkids, London Pack and Devantaye Stewart Jr.; his godmother, Maria Collazo; his godfather, Jose Cruz; his godsister, Jennifer Vizcarrondo and two sisters-in-law. He also leaves a host of special family and friends.

Our Father

Father, our hearts are broke, that only you can mend. The tears that are dripping down our faces seem like they'll never erase. Its so very deep tossing and turning in your sleep trying to put it together that only you can do. You walk the street you see him smiling you see his face laughing along the way. You stop you stare and realize he's not there. Full of life full of love that's our father Freddy. Even though our hearts are broken God called him home. He had made reservations. Father whispered in his ear his work was completed. He said son don't worry for I'll take care of you because you have trusted and believed in me and your mercy has endured forever. You wont have to worry I am right by your side. I knew you were suffering and I didn't want that for you. You tried to stay but we had made plans. Anyway your reservation came and I know you no longer have pain. You reached with your hand so don't seek sorrow but remember there is tomorrow I couldn't pass up the reservation that my father had made for us too. My pain is gone I am strong for I was a soldier in Gods army all along. I love you all so now be strong for I am at peace. I am only asleep until we meet. Anybody ask where I have gone. Tell em I've gone up yonder to be with my Lord until we meet again.

Our Loving Father

*If tears could build a stairway and memories build a lane
I'd walk right up to heaven and bring you home again*

Acknowledgement

The family of Freddy Villalongo would like to send a special thank you to all of his Van Wagnen and Lexington family and everyone else for your prayers and support extended to them at this time of their bereavement.
