Obituary

Frank Walker passed away peacefully on June 23rd 2015. He was the beloved husband of Viola Walker who also passed away in 2005.

Frank Walker was a man with a long life of giving to others. With his hard work and calm spirit, he showed all he touched the essence of manhood and humanity. Whether it was with his family members, friends or first time acquaintances he always had time for others. Even at his life long profession as a horse trainer at the Claremont Riding Academy in New York he ushered many of the children of New York's elite including John and Caroline Kennedy into a caring and loving respect of animals.

He is survived by a son in London and a sister in New York along with a multitude of nieces, nephews and great-nieces and great-nephews.

When I come to the end of the road and the sun has set for me,

*I want no rites in
a gloom filled room,
Why cry for a soul set free?*

Miss me a little-but not too long,

and not with your head bowed low.

*Remember the love
that we once shared,*

Miss me-but let me go.

For this is a journey that we all must take,

And each must go alone.

It's all part of the Master's plan,

A step on the road to home.

When you are lonely

and sick at heart,

Go to the friends we know.

Laugh at the things we use to do

Miss me-but let me go.

Miss Me, But Let Me Go

Acknowledgement

Perhaps you sent a lovely card or sat quietly in a chair.

Perhaps you sent a floral piece If so, we saw it there.

Perhaps you spoke the kindest words as any friend could say.

Perhaps you were not there at all just thought of us on that day.

Whatever you did to console our hearts, We Thank You, Whatever the part.
