Reflections of Life

Patricia Ann Clark, the daughter of the late Sue Carrie and James Edwards was born on June 27, 1967 in Paterson, New Jersey.

Patricia lived in Paterson, New Jersey most of her life, she spent a brief time in North Carolina.

She attended the Paterson Public School system. Playing tennis throughout her entire school experience. She graduated from East Side High School, Paterson, New Jersey in 1985.

Patricia was a loving mom. She did anything for her children and they never had to ask for anything. Not once was there ever too much for her to do for them. Even during her sickness she always pushed herself to make sure her kids were taken care of. Growing up my mom always made sure we had what we needed.

Just thinking of the memories we had brings a smile to my face. I could have never asked for a better mom and she will never be forgotten.

Patricia Ann Clark passed away on July 27, 2015. There's no reason to be sad over her death she's no longer suffering and is finally at peace and she'll always be remembered.

She leaves treasured memories to: her sons, Patrick and Tyler Clark of Paterson, NJ; her only brother, Christopher Clark; two uncles, Alfloyd Salelia and Johnny Clark; three aunts, Ruth Mae Taylor, Pearlie Mae Hall and Gloria Jean Morgan; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.

Miss Me, But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road and the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room,
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little-but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.
For this is a journey that we all must take,
And each must go alone.
It's all part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know.
Laugh at the things we use to do
Miss me-but let me go.*
