Obituary

Mr. George Jones, Jr., also known as “Jr. or Boot” was born on January 12, 1962 to George Jones, Sr. and the late Annie Mae Jones in the town of Dawson, Georgia. He entered into eternal rest on Tuesday, November 24th 2015 at University Hospital of Medicine Center in Newark, New Jersey.

George was educated in the city of Newark school system. He had a great passion for music. In his high school days, he played in the band at West Side High School. The instruments that he played were the tuba and the trombone. George also was a fan of playing the piano at home, where he taught his children to follow in his footsteps. His favorite idol artists were Grover Washington Jr., Barry White and last but not least Quincy Jones, which is when he decided to come up with naming his third son after the musician.

In George’s adult years, he worked at Rolex in Hillside, New Jersey. He worked there over twenty years until they relocated to Maryland, which he continued to work the next year in a half. He also worked for Fed-Ex the next seven years and then developed an illness which then led him into retirement. Once George retired, he took on a landscaping job in his spare time.

In the year of 1982, George was married to Deidra Smith. They conceived three wonderful kids, two boys, named George (the third) and Anthony. They also had one beautiful daughter named Deidra also known as “Toya”. As years passed, George concluded his last marriage, and started a new beginning with Raechelle in the year of 2004. They conceived three wonderful kids as well, two boys, named Gregory and Quincy. They also had one lovely baby girl named Alicia also known as “Shadow, Lil Boot.” Raechelle and George spent the next twenty-seven years together. They were always together. You would rarely see one without the other until his untimely death.

He leaves behind to mourn his death: his wife, Raechelle; son, George the 3rd (Yomira), Anthony, Deidra (Toya), Gregory, Quincy, and baby girl, Alicia; as well as his dad, George Sr.; brothers, Morris and Corey; last but not least his sisters, Theresa, Patricia and Vivian. He also leaves to mourn Abdullah Black, Tyquan Black and Zion Soto.

Miss Me, But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road and the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room,
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little-but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.
For this is a journey that we all must take,
And each must go alone.
It's all part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know.
Laugh at the things we use to do
Miss me-but let me go.*
