I want to start by giving all praises to Allah for he is the creator of all people, places and things in existence and to him we will return.

*This is the most hardest of words I have to write, bare with me for my heart is heavy, I'm very apologetic for my absence but I thank all of you for attending my mothers journey to paradise, a place free of pain, a place where she'll be well welcomed, it's a place like no other. The day is near that we all shall journey we know not of that day my mother Louise M. Macken was prepared, my mother was a strong, black phenomenal woman, my hero, I'll treasure every memory of her until we meet, my mother taught me everything I needed to know about life, the ups and downs, a wonderful teacher
"My Hero..."*

In closing, I want to thank everyone that has shown their feelings and emotions on this day that me and my family will never ever forget. I ask that you pray for my family to remain resilient as we should for "Mother Louise" is watching us, our journey began the night God sent for a angel.

*Respectfully,
Maynard Macken*
