Obituary

Even a 1000 years could never prepare us for this moment. It was a great honor and privilege to have you as a husband and father. Your life was your family, they meant more to you than anything, a home loving family man. Even in your sick bed you wouldn't stop asking "Are the windows closed, are the doors locked" always making sure your family was protected.

You also had a musical taste and appreciation of music, and this can be confirmed by a glance at your record and C.D. collection and how often you had your headphones on and sometimes even falling asleep with the music still playing. It's really hard writing this because all we have now are the memories you have left behind. They will never be forgotten and the vacuum can never be filled.

Being the humble person you were, I have no doubt you will be amazed by the amount of tears, sadness and enormous loss we feel here this day.

Born to Mr. George Frempong and Grace Adutwumwah on October 5, 1957. A portion of his life was spent in Accra, Ghana where he grew up with his siblings and most of his family. He also attended both primary (New Era Preparatory School) and secondary (Wesley Grammar Secondary school) schools in Ghana. He worked with his father briefly until he came to the USA. He was married to Marilyn, had two sons and was always a hardworking man who worked with various companies the last being Vornado Realty Trust in New York City.

He and wife Marilyn would pray together every morning and at evening before bed time and that's what they did on the morning of November 22, 2015 along with visiting family. Marilyn sang the hymn and can it be that I should gain. He requested for the hymn to be sang again after which he said amen for at least five times little did we know it will be his last morning with us. He passed away peacefully later that night.

We had an amazing time together and through all the ups and downs, you were still the best. If the world started all over again, I would still choose you as my husband.

You will always be loved and be missed forever. Words cannot express the void we feel.

May you rest in peace.

Where do they go to?

Where do they go to, the people who leave?
Are they around us, in the cool evening breeze?
Do they still hear us, and watch us each day?
I'd like you to think of them with us that way.

Where do they go to, when no longer here?
I think that they stay with us, calming our fear
Loving us always, holding our hands
Walking beside us, on grass or on sand.

Where do they go to, well it's my belief
They watch us and help us to cope with our grief
They comfort and stay with us, through each of our days
Guiding us always through life's mortal maze.
