Reflections of Life

Fred L. Archibald was born in the Bronx, New York to the proud parents of Charles Archibald Jr. and Vera Briggs Archibald on April 1, 1971. He was the third child of eleven children. His grandmother and grandfather, Mary and Charles Archibald Sr. raised him from the age of three months old in Claremont Village where he later in life became known as "Freddie Bang Bang".

Freddie attended C.E.S. 55 Elementary School and attended Samuel L. Gompers High School in the Bronx. Freddie loved all sports and was an extraordinary artist and very crafty.

Preceded him in death his father; Charles Archibald Jr., grandfather; Charles Archibald Sr., two brothers; Marlon and Omar Archibald.

He leaves to mourn his grandmother; Mary Archibald, mother; Vera Briggs Archibald, stepmother; Jean Archibald, son; Nae'von Sha'lon Archibald, brothers; Charles III, Jemaine, Jermal, Dwayne, Keith, Terrance, Silas, Hershey and Michael sisters; Latisha, Aisha, Tanya, Caretha, Marvell and Natasha, a very close cousin/sister; Lakisha Archibald, aunts, uncles and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends.

Freddie touched many lives and we will always love and miss him.

I'm Free

Don't grieve for me for now I'm free. I'm following the path God laid for me. I took his hand when I heard him call I turned my back and left it all. I could not stay another day, to laugh, to love, to work, on play. Tasks left undone must stay that way. I've found that peace at the close of day. If my parting has left a void, then fill in with remembered joy. A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss, a yes, these things I too will miss, be not burdened with times of sorrow: I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow, my life's been full I've savored much, good times, good friends, a loved one's touch. Perhaps my time served all to brief. Don't lengthen in how with undue grief, lift up your heart and share with me. God wanted me now, he set me free.
