Obituary

Stedman Thomas Baptiste was born on November 26, 1973 in St. Croix, V.I. He was the youngest of five children.

Thomas had many many loves! He was a provider, loving father, greatest son, and friend. He was the joy and center of laughter to his family. Living life to the fullest was his legacy. Thomas walked into any room and brought life to the party.

Thomas later found his calling which was Welding and he strived to be the best at anything he put his mind to. He prided himself on being the best father, husband, brother, son, and friend that he could be.

On Tuesday, April 26, 2016 Stedman Thomas Baptiste departed this life but will always remain in our hearts.

He left behind to mourn his mother, Mary Rose Baptiste; his wife, Yolanda Mosley-Baptiste; his four kids, Jilisa Mosley, Amaya Mosley, Ashlyn Baptiste, and Ashton Baptiste; sisters, Dru, Mahlia, Magdaline, and Jaime; brothers, George, Angus, Neal, Junior, and Andy; nieces, nephews, cousins, family and friends.

We all miss him dearly. May he rest in peace.

.....Lovingly Submitted.....

Repast Invitation

The family would like to invite you to join them in the church fellowship hall after the service.

“Black Man”
“Black Man”
What's going on Blackman ?
“Stedman?”
How you doing ?
Staying fly, Blackman ?
Got your double-sided brush ?..
Keeping your waves on swim !
Fresh pair of white uptown sneakers on ?
With your aviator shades, and your clothes
Drenched in your Dolce and Gabana cologne.
But you got to switch it up because people stealing your scents, right ?
I feel you, black man !
Always looking out cause
“I got love for everybody, man !”
I see you, black man !
Everyone's got to laugh around you cause
“life's to short, man!”
Got to keep our heads up, because you wouldn't cry, “Uncle Tee!”
“stop that crying, man!”
You'd say...So I'm going to be strong because “everything's good, man.”
So keep joking, and smiling.
I'll do the same, because I never seen you cry.
Just stay black...black man.
