Obituary

Darryl Mitchell was born on July 22nd, 1950. He departed this earth on September 19th, 2016. The youngest of two sons born to Robert Mitchell, Sr. and Maggie Mitchell.

“Big Darryl” aka “Brock” as he was affectionately called, went to public schools in the NYC School system. He held various jobs throughout his life, including porter, landscaper, painter, etc. “A jack of all trades”. “When he left to join the Air Force his brother, Robert loved him so much he named his first born son after him, just in case he didn’t make it back from the war, his name would carry on.

“Big Darryl” was a sharp dresser and an avid boxing fan. Often seen riding his bike throughout the neighborhood, Big Darryl had a heart of gold and would help anyone.

Many years ago, he converted to Islam and changed his name to Mustafa.

His father predeceased him. He leaves to cherish his memories: his dear mother, Maggie Mitchell; two sons, Karim Mitchell (Joann Holcomb), Marquis Conklin (Karen Conklin), ex-wife, Adrienne Mickens; one brother, Robert L. Mitchell, Jr.; one nephew, little Darryl Mitchell; one niece-in-law, Octavia Mitchell; two nieces, Yolanda Andrews and Panya Mitchell; two grandsons, Kasar Mitchell and Cairo Mitchell; three grandnephews, Xavier Mitchell, Zahir Mitchell and Davon Mitchell; two grandnieces, Tihesha Andrews and Patrice Andrews; one great grandnephew, Naziah; and a host of relatives and friends.

A Fallen Limb

A limb has fallen from the family tree.
I keep hearing a voice that says, "Grieve not for me.
Remember the best times, the laughter, the song.
The good life I lived while I was strong.
Continue my heritage, I'm counting on you.
Keep smiling and surely the sun will shine through.
My mind is at ease, my soul is at rest.
Remembering all, how I truly was blessed.
Continue traditions, no matter how small.
Go on with your life, don't worry about falls
I miss you all dearly, so keep up your chin.
Until that fine day Robbie when we're together again.
