Obituary

Sagirah Karimah Newell was born on July 27, 1974 to Vanessa L. Newell and the late Henry L. Newell. She was the eldest daughter of three children born to Vanessa (Newell) Wiggs. She grew up in Newark a happy go lucky child- free spirited, always smiling, always having kind things to say about people and to others. It was enjoyable just to have her in your presence. Her siblings were very glad to have her as a very, very special big sister. She was always there for them, to make them laugh and give them advice. She was especially wise at giving advice- even to her mother and father.

She attended Newark Elementary Schools, graduated from Newark's Vocational and Technical High School in Cosmetology. She was very fond of doing everybody's hair (especially her aunt Fifi's).

She had some adversities come into her life some nine years ago. Through all the challenges she had to endure in life, she never complained. When she saw concern in her mother's eyes she'd say "Mommy don't worry, God's got me in a good place in my life". She was loved much by her family and friends. "She will be missed!!!!"

She was preceded in death by her father, Henry Newell, sister, Waleedah Newell, her baby daughter, London, grandmothers, Leola Newell and Edder Roweel. Sagirah Newell leaves to cherish her memory: her mother, Vanessa Wiggs; stepfather, Rudy Wiggs; brother, Bernard Hanson; sister, Mildred Hanson; nephew, Jayden Hanson and niece, Aiyana Hanson. She is also survived by a host of aunts, uncles, and other relatives, and friends.

“Strong”

*Twilight light arises in morning whispers another day.
Broken Vessel flowing on water
Waiting to be brought ashore.*

“Strong”

I am me to be who I am to say whatever I can, and to do as I please.

“Strong”

I chose to be strong mighty in words

“Strong.”

Break down prison walls which surround me.

“Strong”

Back and forth in far distance you came and prayed and you went strong.
