Obsequies

James Edward Judge Jr. (Jimmie)

*“Please don’t cry for me. I don’t want you to be sad.
If you only knew where I was, you would really be glad.”*

Born August 12, 1967 to the late James Edward Judge Sr. and Ruthie M. Judge, in Jersey City, New Jersey.

He was educated in the Jersey City School System, graduated from Henry Snyder High School and attended Devry Vocational School and R & H Trucking School.

He was employed at Yellow Freight Trucking Company from 1983 until he became sick in late November. To be employed that long in any company speaks volumes about a person’s integrity, morals and values; he later became an assistant shop steward.

One would ask, “who was James Judge Jr. “Jimmie”?” He was like the quiet storm, smooth, calm and collected. He enjoyed his music, looking and smelling good; he knew how to put it all together. He was tall, sharp and comical with a loveable personality. He loved cooking, grilling and sports. His favorite NFL team is the Dallas Cowboys (lol). He also enjoyed Facebook blogging, that was his entertainment.

Jimmie was a devoted father and friend. Like his father, family was important to him. He wasn’t a loud man but he was humble, his eyes spoke louder than his words. His children were his heart, he traveled near and far to make sure their relationship was solid. His faith was true and his walk with God was his own.

The same friends he shared in grade and high school, were his Best Friends until this day: Herb Robertson and Aaron McCant.

He leaves to cherish his memories his Precious Mother Ruthie Judge, three children: Donte Pruitt (Chanele) of Virginia, Anthony J. Judge of New Jersey and Ciara J. Judge of Virginia; two Grand Daughters Zaiden and Ava; one brother Varick Judge of New Jersey, three sister Cynthia (Ronald) Williams of South Carolina, Celesa Drew of New Jersey, baby sister Anja Wright and special Brother-in-law (Keith) of Pennsylvania; a special Sister/Aunt Carrie Barnette of South Carolina and a host of Aunts, Uncles, Nieces, Nephews, Cousins, and Friends.

When Tomorrow Starts Without Us

When tomorrow starts without us, and we're not there to see if the sun should rise and find your eyes, all filled with tears for us. We wish so much you wouldn't cry, the way you did today, while thinking of the many things, we didn't get to say. We know how much you love us, as much as we love you, and each time that you think of us, we know you'll miss us too. But when tomorrow starts without us, please try to understand that an angel came and called our name, and took us by the hand and said, "our place was ready, in heaven far above and that we'd have to leave behind, all those us dearly love." But when we walked through heaven's gates, we felt so much at home. When God looked down and smiled at us, from His great golden throne. He said "This is eternity, and all I've promised you." Today for life on earth is past, but here it starts anew. We promise no tomorrow, for today will always last. And since each day's the same way, there's no longing for the past. So when tomorrow starts without us, don't think we're far apart. For every time you think of us, we're right here in your heart.
