Carl Brown was born in Jersey City, NJ on March 7, 1962. He was the son of Everlena Coleman; brother to Horace Brown (Deceased), Kimberly Chester (Deceased), Waymon Brown, and Wesley Brown. Some of us will know him as Father, Uncle, Cousin, Nephew, and friend. Most importantly as family and as a loved one.

Along Carl's journey he was blessed to have two children; Tracey Brown of Wilmington, NC and Ashley Brown of Newark, NJ. Carl leaves behind seven grandchildren.

“He traded His Wheelchair for Wings”

I was standing tall when My Heavenly Father needed to sit me down

I sat still for a while, then he gave me a set of wheels to get around.

I ran a race that was mapped out just for me,

I was sitting down and you guys still couldn't catch me.

I kept in touch as best as I can from the front of the line,

But my Father laid me down, for He saw the tiredness in my eyes.

I would have loved to stay for motivation to the finish line,

But I decided to trade my wheelchair for wings to race along side all of you guys.
