Obituary

Lorraine Smith was born March 6, 1942 in Brooklyn, New York and she transitioned from this life on March 9, 2017 after a brief illness. Lorraine was born to the late Alton and Bernice Smith; she had two siblings that preceded her in death, Junie and Gail.

Lorraine was educated in the Brooklyn Public School system and she was also a Health Care Professional. Upon adulthood she met Bradley Whack and to this union four children were born out of love.

Lorraine leaves to cherish her memories: her children, Barry (Liz), Shon (Komeko), Kisha, Jarrell (Eboni); her grandchildren, Mikka, Shon Jr., Devon, Amber, Latrell, Naquan, Najae, Deja, Shonaree, Yusuf Jr., Marquis, Shaki, Jaden, Jewel, Elijah, Jarrell Dickerson; great grandchildren, Janiyah, Jada, Jeremiah, Yunaja; her siblings, Delores Smith (Norfolk, VA), Barbara Smith (Brooklyn, NY), Doreen Milliam (Lorenzo) (Brooklyn, NY), Russell Smith (Brooklyn, NY), Valerie Jefferson (Robert) (Richmond, VA); two uncles, Mr. Muhammad Abdul Aziz (Thelma) (Brooklyn, NY) and Mr. & Mrs. Noah Overton of South Carolina and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and friends. Very special thanks to Liz, La Kisha, Kim and Shelly who walked this journey with her. The next time you hear the O'Jays or Barry White just think of our beloved Lorraine, they were her favorites. Gone but never forgotten.

Rainbows On The Moon

There are rainbows on the moon
There are clouds in outer space
The night has started mourning
Since I passed away too soon
There are rainbows on the moon
There are colours crying in tiers
The solar wind is wailing
Since I passed away too soon

I shine with the Northern Lights
I shine with the waning moon
I shine with the shooting stars
Since I passed away too soon
Now one zillion candles
Are shining all around me
One zillion and one candles
For my life on earth to see.

Acknowledgement

We hope and pray that you would continue to encourage, strengthen and uplift the family during this time of bereavement.
