Obituary

James Alexis Boggan, 64 husband of Ethel Hines-Boggan was born November 14, 1952 in Pinehurst, North Carolina. He exchanged his mortal garments for his immortal robe on June 19, 2017.

James received his formal education in Pinehurst School System of North Carolina. James enlisted in the United States Coast Guard where he served two years; receiving a honorable discharge.

James worked at Meadowlands racetrack as a horse trainer and later supervisor at Sharut Furniture Passaic; he also worked with Lenny Johnson Cleaning Service.

On May 17th 1986, James was united in marriage to Ethel Hines, after a few rocky years the two rejoined in marriage in 2012.

James knew The Lord Jesus Christ as his savior at a young age. He was taught the Catholic religion from a school age, once married he joined the Union Baptist Church in Passaic under the leadership of Dr. R.W. Johnson, where he sang on the Male Choir.

James loved to play golf, played the guitar and wrote poetry, which he did whenever he got the chance; He was a very special person, he liked everyone.

James was predeceased by one brother Stanley Boggan.

Besides his wife James's memory will be cherished by two sons Jamie Boggan and Courtney Wade, two daughters Ramond (Furlando) Butler, Rossie (Jason) Wade Volley, one step son Wanyae C. Irving, two brothers Leonard (Sherly) Boggan and Jimmy McDowell, three sisters Gloria (James) Davis, Linda Boggan and Olivia (Charles) Brown, ten grandchildren, sister-in-law MaDonna, Kim, Marybeth, Nyeeda and Nyella McCullum, brother-in-law James Davis, William McCullum, Algernon Lee, David McCullum and best friend Jerome Walton, close friend he loved like a mother Betty Jones and other family relatives and friends.

On Valentines Day

If I could bestow upon you all of the things that makes you happy. What would they be? Would they be diamonds and pearls that gives off a sparkle out of this world. Could it be trips to romantic fantasies, where pleasures are often splurged. When aphrodisiacs are served abundantly to your lust. Or would you my love accept my heart awakening yours to a life of love and never imagine able trust. Would you?
