Obituary

Jamal Pollard was born on October 8, 1971 to the late Clifford Wheeler and Carolyn Pollard at Harlem Hospital, New York, New York. On July 20, 2017, Jamal went home to his eternal rest with his maker. Jamal received his education at Mable Dean Beacon High School.

Jamal worked a few jobs honoring his skills as a great handyman. Jamal was a Jack of all trades and can handle any job from minor to major home repairs. If you needed something assembled, painted, installed even if you needed new flooring, plus more Jamal did it for you professionally. Jamal greatly enjoyed helping others. Jamal also loved riding his bike. Jamal and Sue would ride their bikes to any parts of New York. One of Jamal's favorite places was Morningside Park. Jamal was especially known as being a friendly neighbor type of guy and very well respectful to others. Jamal has been recently working for two years at Access-A-Ride working as an amulet driver. Ten years before that he worked as a maintenance man at an Aids Patient Outreach.

Jamal is preceded in death by his father, Clifford Wheeler; grandfather, James Pollard; grandfather, Carl Anderson; grandmother, Willie Mae Wheeler; aunts, Linda Pollard and Rese Wheeler; uncles, James Pressley, Carl Anderson, Jr., Leroy Wheeler and Teddy Wheeler.

Jamal is survived by: his mother, Carolyn Pollard; his brother, Clifford Pollard; his grandmother, Evelyn Pollard; his longtime girlfriend, Sue Ingebretsen; three aunts, Dorothy Pressley, Laura Gilliard (Clarence) and Dolores Pollard (Jimmy); nephew, Clifford Pollard, Jr.; and a host of cousins and friends.

If Tears Could Build A Stairway

*If tears could build a stairway,
and memories a lane.
I would walk right up to Heaven
and bring you back again.*

*No farewell words were spoken,
No time to say "Goodbye".
You were gone before I knew it,
and only God knows why.*

*My heart still aches with sadness,
and secret tears still flow.
What it meant to love you -
No one can ever know.*

*But now I know you want me
to mourn for you no more;
To remember all the happy times
life still has much in store.*

*Since you'll never be forgotten,
I pledge to you today~
A hollowed place within my heart is where you'll always stay.*

Acknowledgement

*The family acknowledges with deep appreciation all acts of kindness extended to them during this bereavement hour.
May God bless you for all your thoughtfulness and concern.*
