Obituary

Jewel Miller Johnson, was born on October 22, 1926 in Uniondale, North Carolina to the late Edna and John Miller. She was the eldest of four children all of whom preceded her in death. She was reared in Washington, D.C, and graduated from Dunbar High School. Jewel married Harry (Jack) Johnson and later moved to Harlem, N.Y. in search of more opportunity and a richer way of life.

Jewel was a diligent woman who became a beautician at Vivienne's hair salon in Harlem, N.Y. She was really a rare jewel. Her laughter and smile could brighten a whole room. She was beautiful, loving, and extremely family oriented. The best word to describe her would be extraordinary. A woman of her own means, she was excellent at being a money maker and was the backbone of her entire family. In the 1950s, she decided to settle in St. Albans, N.Y. and purchased her own home. One of her famous sayings was "I make money, money don't make me." She was a gracious host and loved to entertain family and friends. She was very sophisticated and frequently traveled abroad to places like Africa and Alaska.

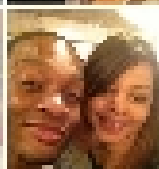

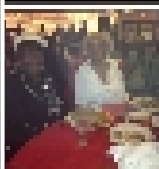

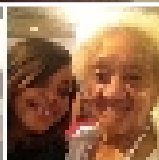

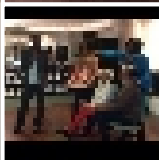

Left to hold dear all precious moments are her daughters, Tanya Johnson, Brenda Mitchell and Dottsie Moore, her sons, Harry Johnson Jr. (d), Guy Miller and Jerrell Miller; and a multitude of grandchildren, great grandchildren, nieces, nephews, relatives and friends.

Jewel departed this life on November 2, 2017 at the age of 91. She was a brown Lana Turner in Imitation of Life, and a brown Elizabeth Taylor in Cleopatra. She will be truly missed by all, especially her children.

*To say goodbye is not the end
To all my family and friends
For life goes on, you must endure
For my eternity is sure.*

Thank You For Coming

PSALM 27

The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?

When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell. Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident.

One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in his temple. For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his pavilion: in the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me; he shall set me up upon a rock. And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his tabernacle sacrifices of joy; I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the Lord. Hear, O Lord, when I cry with my voice: have mercy also upon me, and answer me.

When thou saidst, Seek ye my face; my heart said unto thee, Thy face, Lord, will I seek. Hide not thy face far from me; put not thy servant away in anger: thou hast been my help; leave me not, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation. When my father and my mother forsake me, then the Lord will take me up. Teach me thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a plain path, because of mine enemies. Deliver me not over unto the will of mine enemies: for false witnesses are risen up against me, and such as breathe out cruelty. I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living. Wait on the Lord: be of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart: wait, I say, on the Lord.
