Obituary

Elsa was born to Benjamin and Jacinta in Livingston, Guatemala in 1936.

After completing her nurse training, she came to the United States in 1957 with her oldest sister Georgina. She worked for the City of New York as a Public Health Nurse for 35 years while raising her 5 children. She sacrificed a lot through those years.

After retirement, she enjoyed spending time with her friends, travelling to Vegas, eating at restaurants and going to the racetrack. (You knew when she won big we were going out for a fancy dinner!). Looking back at her life one can say she was blessed with great instincts and impenetrable self-determination. Those she allowed in her world were lucky.

Elsa leaves behind her children John, Richard, Lilia, April and Alison, all who she loved wholeheartedly.

Her memory and spirit will live through each child individually and as a family just like she wanted.

Miss Me, But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road and the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room,
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little-but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.
For this is a journey that we all must take,
And each must go alone.
It's all part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know.
Laugh at the things we use to do
Miss me-but let me go.*
