Obituary

I am who I am, but no one can write about me but me. Since I am on another journey now, someone else is doing it for me. I was born one of five children. I was born on February 3, 1958 in Harlem Hospital, New York to Leona Carol Love Brown. Harlem then became my home. I did not get to know my mother that well, because she died in my infancy. I grew up living with my great grandmother on 143rd Street in Harlem, which became the home I loved.

As I pressed on to reach the end of life's race, I was taught to be kind, humble, and loyal to my family and friends. I survived the school system from grade school to college, and earned a degree in Hospitality. I had many interests—loved reading books, loved old movies from the 40's and 50's, and old Rhythm and Blues from the 60's and 70's. I became very knowledgeable about New York politics and world events. My favorite color is yellow. My hobbies are cats, flowers and most of all is my knitting. God gave me tools to work with.

I worked at odd jobs until I finally secured a job with the New York City Police Department at the 40th Precinct on Alexander Avenue in the Bronx, NY. It was quite a challenging and interesting learning experience for me. With all of my peculiarities they were tolerant and very good to me. They can teach you what goodness is all about.

There is nothing more I can say about myself. This chapter of my life has closed. God said it is time to come home. It had become a desire to leave New York, so God extended His hand to me.

I leave behind: three brothers, Monte Love Brown, Lamont Love Brown, and Christopher Love Brown; my beloved and faithful cousin, Ronnie Love; a beloved aunt, Barbara Ann Sunhouse; and a host of cousins and dear friends. I am leaving behind all these jewels. I give thanks to my God for all of them.
