Obituary

Elliott “Lil Man” Garner, a native New Yorker, was born to the parents of June and Bernard Garner on Dec. 31, 1962. Elliott grew up in South Brooklyn. Many of you will remember him from Warren Street and Gowanus Projects. He had many friends and associates from the old neighborhood. Elliott attended public schools and Automotive High School here in Brooklyn, NY. He was extremely bright and had the most beautiful handwriting. He was well versed in writing letters. He held various types of employment and activities throughout his life. His most current life assignment was as a “street Vendor” in the lucrative area of the Staten Island Ferry on Broadway in lower Manhattan. Elliott also served in the Military, U.S. Army and was released with a general discharge.

Elliott left us with many memories. As GOD called him home he will be reunited with his mother and father, sisters Lorraine and Lynette, and brothers Eric and Emory along with loving grandparents that just adored him. Oh what a time that will be. At his passing you could say “when life gives you a hundred reasons to cry, show life you have a thousand reasons to smile.”

Elliott leaves to cherish his memory his brothers Stacey and Gerard, and his sister Elisha, godson Julius Johnson. Also his aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews a host of cousins other relatives and friends. Lil Man is gone but will never be forgotten.

A faint, large portrait of a man with a beard and mustache, wearing a light-colored shirt, serves as the background for the text.

I'm Free

*Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free
I'm following the path God laid for me
I took his hand when I heard Him call
I turned my back and left it all.*

I could not stay another day.

*To laugh, to love, to work or play.
Tasks left undone must stay that way,
I found that peace at the close of day.*

*If my parting has left a void,
Then fill it up with remembered joy.
A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss,
Oh, yes these things I too will miss.
Be not burdened with times of sorrow,
I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow.*

*My life's been full, I savored much.
Good friends, good times, a loved one's touch.
Perhaps my time seemed all too brief,
Don't lengthen it now with undue grief.
Lift up your heart and share with me,
God wanted me now, He set me free!*

Acknowledgements

The family wishes to acknowledge with deep appreciation the many expressions of love, concern and kindness shown to their family during this hour of bereavement.

May God Bless and Keep You!
