OBITUARY

Terrance Walter Ridley was born July 16, 1970 to Ida D. Ridley and the late Wilford Johnson.

Terrance grew up on South 17th Street and Madison Avenue where he attended Madison Avenue Elementary School, Hawthorne Avenue Middle School, and West Side High School. In his senior year he decided to attend Job Corps where he received his certificate in Plumbing. Terrance was very quiet as a young child and had the biggest smile that would light up any room.

As a teenager he enjoyed hanging with his neighborhood friends. He was an amazing basketball player in a community where basketball was everyone's favorite sport to play or watch. Terrance was a very kind and sentimental person that would go out of his way to assist in any way he could.

In 2015 he moved to Douglasville Georgia where he was gainfully employed at LongHorn Steakhouse for several years up until his passing. He received an employee of the month plaque recognizing his hard work and dedication.

Terrance is survived by his two sons Terrance Powell (mother Darlene Powell), Isaiah McIntry (mother Lisa McIntry) his mother Ida D. Ridley, three grandchildren Malaki Powell, Tymir Powell and Ta'Nilah Powell, two sisters Stacy Ridley and Lakesha Bell (husband Fuquan); three brothers Darren Johnson, Myron Tillman (wife Elizabeth) and David C. Peak Jr. He was also a father figure to Tiyon and Marquise McIntry along with a host of nieces, nephews, family and friends. Terrance is preceded in death by four sisters and four brothers and his step father David C. Peak Sr.
