OBITUARY

Robert Basil Harvey was born on October 15, 1950, in Colleyville Manchester, Jamaica West Indies.

His parents were Miriam Simpson and Llewelyn Harvey.

Robert resided with his mother in Trelawny and attended The Lowe River Primary School and Lorimers United Church. Later on, he attended Cobbler Training School to train as a mechanic. His mother moved to Kingston for better working conditions and in doing so, she placed her son in the care of his aunt and uncle, Violet, and Dudley Carter, as well as his uncle Easton “Tatti” Simpson. Robert was cherished and nurtured by his family.

As a young man, she took him to live with her in Kingston. They ended up moving back to Trelawny. Although Robert was not excited by the move because he did not enjoy farming; he therefore moved to Mandeville, in search of his true purpose. Robert gained employment with a Contractor doing plumbing. Still, this did not offer Robert the satisfaction he craved. He later joined the team at Ribbon Garage and Gas Station.

During this season of his life, he met and fell in love with Winsome A. Miller. The couple loved to party, and Robert was a great dancer and a very dapper dresser with his particular love of the colors blue, silver and grey. This was even reflected in his choice colors of his vehicles. His great style and the love they shared, earned them the nickname “The Love Birds”.

Robert’s next move was to Guantanamo Bay Naval Base in Cuba. He was always in search of the very best ways and means to provide for his family. In Cuba, his love for the game of dominoes rewarded him with the nickname ‘Picki Wax’. In September of 1993, Robert moved his family from Jamaica, W.I. to the United States of America.

Robert, being separated from his family for over 20+ years due to his work, finally had the opportunity to be reunited with his family in the US and this brought him great pleasure. His children were now adults with their own children, Chadwick M. Campbell, Annaliese K. Harvey, Kiera A. Edwards, Ashley N. Harvey, and James M. Harvey. Being the working man, Robert worked for twenty years as a Tyre Technician at Sam’s Club, Elmsford NY, where his work ethics were unmatched.

Robert B Harvey has transitioned and leaves behind to celebrate his legacy, his wife Winsome A. Harvey, Children: Karrie O. Harvey-Edwards (Dudley E. Edwards), Mascell B. Harvey (Sherri-Ann T. Robinson-Harvey) and Tavia A. Harvey.

Grandchildren: Chadwick, Annaleise, Kiera, Ashley and James.

Adopted sons: Rich Malcolm and Peter Powell. Adopted Granddaughter Shenika Frett-Spann, nieces, nephews, many cousins and a host of other relatives and friends.

TRIBUTE FROM THE SIMPSON FAMILY

I would first like to extend our gratitude to all the attendees who have come today to honor this great man, Robert Harvey. A person we have all come to love and cherish for many years. We have all known him in a variety of ways, as a husband, father, grandfather, cousin, uncle, and friend. He was a peaceful and quiet man, yet never put up with nonsense or hypocrisy. He was kind and thoughtful and loved his family, especially his wife Winnie. Today because of all these great values, we are here to pay our last respects. So, with a heavy heart and sadness, we the Simpson family are helping to usher him into his Maker's arms as he stood waiting for him. Robert will be greatly missed but won't be forgotten. Thank you all.
