Obituary

Mona was born January 16, 1959 in Charleston, Virginia to the late Cecella Ann Evans. When she was young, she moved from West Virginia to Norfolk, VA. She lived there with her mom and sister.

She attended school and got a part time job. Shortly after she got pregnant with Negrita McCollum and met her husband Luis Prosper who was a sailor in the navy. She had 2 children through her union who were Xavier Prosper and Taurean Prosper.

She volunteered at her local church where she helped her community. She was for helping people with their electronics as well as her own and taking great care of her grandchildren and great grandchildren.

She then made the decision to move to New Jersey from VA. For the last 33 years she spent her happy years in New Jersey. She made a ton of friends, outlived her life as a house wife and took care of her family.

Surviving by her side her husband Luis Prosper, her children Negrita, Xavier, and Taurea, her grandchildren Diaonique, Shawa, Shana, Prince Jonathan, Princess Victoria, Heaven Cecella-ann Prince Nicholas, Sirmicah, Destiny-Faith and Dvine-Reigh Johnson, Destiny, Giovanni, and Taureah, and Jaelynn.

A Mother's Love

Our Love is unique in most ways to where our children would never understand. When we say do something it's only out of concern. To lead us in the right direction for us to use her brain for us to become something not for us to be like us (her parents) A mother's love is different from a fathers love a mothers love we protect our young and even when its old and on the run. A mothers love for you only gets one yes, we can always be replaced but nothing like the original. We hate to see our children do wrong, we hate to see them hurt, we hate to see them cry. As for me I felt like I did my job. I feel like I served my purpose for however long god has us here for. A mothers love will never die, it will hurt and heal. From the 1st looks of death a mothers love will always be what it is always.

“A Mother's Love”
