He then went to work in the Tourism Industry in the community of Negril where he worked for various hotels. He was known to be a reasonable man and also worked for neighbors and friends .

Kenneth later traveled to the United State of Florida in pursuit of a better way of life and later was encouraged by his father to come to New Jersey and establish himself as a permanent resident. He returned to Jamaica in 1990 where he fathered his only Child Thiffanne Charlotte Jarrett and later married Vevienne Farquharson in 1996.

He Worked for Ace Blacktop Paving and Construction for over 30 years and eventually became a supervisor.

Kenneth loved to play cricket and dominoes and doing things with his friends such as driving them to work and picking up family and friends at the airport. He earned the nickname Quarry because he liked to run in his younger days as his countryman Donald Quarry. Later his friends in Paterson came to know him as Hector after his Father. At the end of each year when his work stopped, he would travel back and forth to Jamaica over the years to visit with his family and friends and was well known in his hometown of Little London.

When Tomorrow Starts

Without Me

When tomorrow starts without me and I'm not there to see;
If the sun should rise and find your eyes
all filled with tears for me.

I wish so much you wouldn't cry,
the way you did today,
while thinking of the many things,
we didn't get to say.

I know how much you love me,
as much as I love you,
and each time that you think of me,
I know you'll miss me too.
So when tomorrow starts without me,
don't think we're far apart,
for every time you think of me,
I'm right here, in your heart.
